Iowa Police Officer Requirements

The Iowa Law Enforcement Academy \(ILEA\) is the agency responsible for setting and enforcing minimum hiring and training requirements for Iowa cops. As in most states, to become a police officer in Iowa applicants must be US citizens with a high school diploma or GED. In addition to those basic standards, potential cops must:

- Be at least 18 years of age
- Be a resident of Iowa or intend to become a resident upon employment
- Have a valid Iowa driver's license
- Not be addicted to any controlled substance, including alcohol
- Have no felony convictions
- Have been fingerprinted and pass a background investigation
- Have normal hearing (with or without hearing aids)
- Have uncorrected vision of 20/100 (minimum) correctable to 20/20 and be able to differentiate between red and blue

Potential candidates who meet these requirements must pass basic skills testing and undergo a physical exam to ensure that they are able to meet the demands of the job. Other required exams include a psychological exam, medical exam, and drug testing. Recruits will also submit to a polygraph test. Successful recruits will attend a police training academy.
